OFFICE OF THE PROVOST AND VICE PRESIDENT FOR ACADEMIC AFFAIRS

May 22, 2012

Eric Van Steenburg
Marketing and Logistics

Dear Eric,

We know what a HUGE difference it makes to UNT's success as an educational institution if every faculty member carries out some action that helps in students achieving their goals. The difference in retaining students at UNT may result from extending office hours, scheduling an extra help session, or creating dynamic lessons where students are actively engaged. While there are many intrinsic rewards for teaching, recognition by our students validates our efforts.

To that end, our partners in the Center for Learning Enhancement, Assessment, and Redesign have developed the successful Thank a Teacher program where students can submit notes of appreciation through an online portal. We are pleased to share this acknowledgement from one or more of your students this semester.

Thank you for a great semester! I enjoyed your class and learned quite a bit about branding that I believe will help me in my career. I appreciate you helping us so much outside of class, you were very accessible unlike some other professors I have had. I wish you the best in your doctorate studies! I may be in touch for some advice and recommendations on agencies you think may be a good fit for someone with prior marketing experience and a new degree! Again, thank you very much for a great semester!
Matthew Kirby

Once again, we congratulate you on this recognition and offer our sincere appreciation for your commitment to and passion for student success at UNT.

Best,

Warren Burggren
